CHAMBERLAIN'S COUGH BEM

FRUITLESS TRIP OF CRUISER TACOMA

The San Francisco Chronicle of June says: The cruiser Tacoma, Capt. R. F. Nicholson, from Honolulu May 19th arrived here yesterday, having spent four days, May 24th to 28th, cruising in search of doubtful islands heretofore reported in the neighborhood of 17 degrees north latitude and 126 degrees west longitude. The Taconia found no islands or shoal water and saw no signs of land.

James D. Hague of New York, who by authority of the Secretary of the Navy, accompanied the Tacoma for the purpose of participating in the search, says that this result is absolutely conclusive so far as it concerns the ocean area actually seen from the track line of the Tacoma. The area thus examined is about one-third of the questionable region where islands have been occasionally reported, and may, possibly, yet be found. The search of the Tacoma was restricted to four days by her limited coal supply. As she carried no appliances for deep sea sounding, her exploration was wholly superficial.

These results afford no hoped for light on the loss of the United States steamer Levant, which disappeared mysteriously in 1860 on her voyage from Hawall to Panama, and which now believed to have been wrecked on rocks somewhere in her sailing track. This belief is founded upon almost unquestionable evidence, indicated by the finding of wreckage of the Levant on the south end of Hawaii about nine months after her departure from Hilo.

Mr. Hague has recently obtained some further data concerning this wreckage and its significant relations to the question of the Levant's fate. He is more than ever confident that the vessel did not founder in midocean, but was wrecked on some reef or perhaps island, where possibly there might have been, and in such event still may be, survivors. The search of the Tacoma was undertaken in hope of finding such an island, if there be one. In this respect the result is disappointing. In other respects the result of the cruise is beneficial, since it tends to the ultimate removal from the charts of an existing menace to navigation,

The cruise of the Tacoma in search of the mysterious island or shoal was Captain Lawless of the steamer Aus- cent. tralia two years ago. He claimed to have seen discolored water, indicat-ing a shoal, in latitude 18 degrees 56 minutes north, longitude 136 degrees, 10 minutes west.

HANALEI TO BE SOLD ON COAST

The Inter-Island Steam Navigation Company's steamer Hanalel was put on the marine rallway shortly after noon yesterday to be cleaned and repaired preparatory to her departure the latter part of the present week for San Francisco, where it is understood the vessel will be sold to parties who will put her on the coasting trade.

The Hanalei has been out of commission for a long period of time, her last service being to carry supplies to the cable colony on Midway Island. Bookings have been heavy for the steamer, principally of Japanese, to whom a low rate is being made. The vessel has accommodations for fifty first class cabin passengers, but it is understood few white people are book- of Hawaii, was considerably below the of the Rebellion, Bull Run, the Federal present first mate on the steamer Mauna Loa, and Capt. Mosher will probably go as first mate. The Hanalei will probably make the trip in about ten days.

Barely Escaped Collision.

The bark Olympic, arriving yesterday. nineteen days from Kaanapali, Maui, with nine passengers and a cargo of 38,000 bags of sugar, narrowly escaped collision with the pilot-boat Pathfinder, lying at anchor off Meiggs wharf. The Olympic was following the barkentine | Stations-Coronado, just in from Honolulu, after a trip of twenty-three days, with passengers and a cargo of 22,405 bags of sugar, and when the Coronado came to an anchorage sheered off to pass her. The Pathfinder lay directly in her path. but by skillful maneuvering the Olympic avoided a collision and the probable destruction of the small boat.—Chronicle, June 3,

New Mail Docks. SAN FRANCISCO, June 3,-The Harbor Commission did not meet yesterday as was expected and will defer action on the adoption of the plans for the new Pacific Mail docks until next Wednesday. The docks will cost $300,000 each instead of $180,000 as was originally estimated and will be the finest structure of the kind in this country. Passengers will land from the big liners on the upper deck of the new wharves, all the lower deck being reserved for freight. Other new features will be provided.

The Pacific Heights residence tract. with certain lots excepted, was sold under foreclosure of mortgage by Will E. Fisher at his auction rooms, Merchant street, at noon yesterday. C. W. Booth, mortgagee, bought in most of the property. There was a large attendance at the sale.

J. A. Magoon, after the legal notice was read, made an explanation as mort gagee's attorney to show that any pur chasers would have clear titles in fee simple. He asked if anyone wanted to have any particular lot put up.

Attorney Milverton entered a written protest against the sale on behalf of C. S. Desky, the mortgagor, on the ground that portions of the premises were in controversy under an appeal to the Supreme Court. Later B. L. Jr., of said Honolulu, Mortgagee, and Marx, attorney for C. M. The remainder of the tract, with the exceptions as advertised withheld, was then offered. Mr. Magoon and Fred. Wundenberg bid against each other until the property fell to Magoon, who announced C. W. Booth as the buyer.

As the amount thus far realized did not cover the mortgage and accrued expenses, it became necessary to put up lots that had been bought from Desky but never released from mortgage. __

George P. Castle had his own lot knocked down to him for $1000. The west half of the Atherton lot was bid in by Booth at $300. Two of Walton's lots fell to Booth for $700. The sale of George Kluegel's lot was postponed a

NEW GATEWAY AT CAPITOL

Former kings and queens of Hawaii would probably be shocked were they given the opportunity to see the new old palace, now the capitol, wall. Not in years has the wall been broken down to admit of a new gateway, not since the small private entrance was opened onto Hotel street back of the Bungalow, through which his august Majesty, Kalakaua, had egress to the Hawaiian Hotel when it suited him to make a short cut to that hostelry.

In former days when the present capitol was the palace of the reigning by a high cement wall, wih a gateway on each of the four sides. The gates in those days were heavy panelled affairs so that the gaze of the vulgar could not penetrate to the royal residence. Each one was flanked by a sentry box and soldiers were always on guard. Each of the gates also had a special Hawaiian cognomen.

After the revolution of 1887 the wall was cut down to its present height, and later on the present high iron fence was erected. The plan to cut a gateway in of Richards street and Palace Square was advanced during the regime of H. E. Cooper as Superintendent of Public Works. A broad pathway will be conmake quite a short cut to the Capitol building, and will also afford some shade to the pedestrian.

New stone curbing is being laid along the borders of the driveways, to the satisfaction of 1i. J. Greene, the caretaker of the building and grounds.
